This is an agreement between the Egyptian Garment Exporters Association (hereinafter EGEA) and the International Business and Economic Research Corporation (hereinafter "IBERC"), whereby IBERC will provide to EGEA and the Government of Egypt advisory, research and consulting services with regard to the U.S. restraint request on Egypt's exports of cotton and manmade fiber men's and boys' woven shirts in Category 340/640.

I. SCOPE OF SERVICES

A. Report Preparation

In advance of the commencement of negotiations between Egypt and the United States, IBERC will prepare a comprehensive economic and legal brief to be used by Egypt in the negotiations. The brief will include all material and information pertaining to the restraint action on Category 340/640 as well as a detailed analysis of the U.S. Market Statement which alleged that Egypt's trade in Category 340/640 has disrupted the U.S. market. The brief will provide counter-arguments which could be used by Egypt's negotiators in refuting claims of U.S. market disruption. Additionally, IBERC will recommend negotiating strategies and tactics which could be used by Egypt in the negotiations.

B. Advisory Services During the Negotiations

Senior IBERC consultants will be available, whether in Cairo or Washington, D.C., prior to and during each negotiating session. As the negotiations proceed, IBERC will be able to provide substantive information and recommendations regarding claims or proposals being made by U.S. negotiators and will be able to provide written responses and counter-proposals. The IBERC consultants will assist Egyptian negotiators in the further refinement of their strategies and tactics as each session develops.

C. Ongoing Communications

IBERC will also keep EGEA and the Government of Egypt informed of all trade developments which may relate to the Category 340/640 negotiations.

Additionally, prior to and between each round of negotiations, IBERC will continue to monitor U.S. Government activities in the field of textiles and apparel negotiations to ensure that EGEA and the government of Egypt are kept abreast of U.S. policy decisions that may have a bearing on Egypt's negotiating position. This also will include, as appropriate, making direct representations to U.S. Government officials including the U.S. Chief Textile Negotiator, at the request of Egypt's negotiators.

II. PROFESSIONAL FEES AND EXPENSES

Professional fees and expenses for the services outlined in section I above are as follows:

- A. Preparation of the economic and legal brief to be used in the negotiations, including research on the U.S. domestic market.

Professional Fee: US $5,000

- B. Advisory and consulting services during negotiations, including preparation of such materials as may be required on an ad hoc basis.

Professional Fee: US $5,000 for each round of negotiations in the United States.

US $7,500 for each round of negotiations outside of the United States.

In addition to the professional fees cited above, for any travel outside of the U.S., including travel to Egypt, IBERC will be reimbursed for all out-of-pocket expenses including, but not limited to, all costs of domestic and international transportation, communications, and living expenses while outside of Washington, D.C. All other related direct expenses such as the expense of production of documents, computer time, communication, reproduction and delivery services also will be reimbursed.

III. PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Two IBERC professionals will be assigned to this project, including IBERC's president, Walter C. Lenahan.

IV. PAYMENT

Both professional fees and expenses will be billed on a monthly basis.

V. THE AGREEMENT

If the terms of this proposal are acceptable to EGEA, this proposal should be signed by an authorized person in the space provided below. Upon execution, this shall become an agreement between EGEA and IBERC. Two signed copies of this agreement have been provided. The original is for the records of EGEA. One signed copy should be returned to IBERC.
